Week 2 (June 13-17): Ocean Discovery

This week we dive into the mysteries of the world's oceans. With hands-on projects and activities, we will learn about the oceans of the world, the different zones of the ocean, the incredible variety of ocean creatures and how the oceans shape our climate and support life on Earth.

Week 3 (June 20-24): Summer Scientist

Let's explore the world around us as junior scientists. We will build robots. We will experiment with the states of matter through chemistry experiments. We will use new tools and learn new skills as we investigate the natural world around us.

Week 4 (June 27-July 1): Dinosaur Week

Let's jump back in time to learn about the astonishing creatures that walked the Earth millions and millions of years ago. We will investigate prehistoric animals including dinosaurs and other creatures from "The Age of Reptiles" and what our Earth was like when they roamed the planet. We will also learn about the tools scientists use to uncover the mysteries from the ancient past.

Week 5 (July 5-8): Let's Go Camping!

Camping is always an adventure. We will put the "camp" in Summer camp as we explore the fun in the great out-of-doors right here at Satori with all kinds of camping related activities and traditions. We will set up tents, learn some orienteering skills, tell stories, make s'mores, and have a cook-out!

Week 6 (July 11-15): Where the Wild Things Are

Let the Wild Rumpus Begin! We will celebrate Maurice Sendak's beloved story by letting our imaginations run wild with hands-on activities and crafts, puppets, role playing, and sharing the power a great story has to enrich us all.
